

Privacy Statement

Thank you for visiting a Corcom Communications Web site. We are committed to maintaining your online privacy and make every effort to ensure that your rights are protected. These guidelines are subject to change without prior notice. It is therefore recommended that you refer back to them periodically.

Information Collected and Stored Automatically

As a visitor to our site, your IP address is automatically collected primarily to track the number of computers used to visit our site, the pages visited most often, the timeframe used most frequently and other trends. This statistical data is gathered to analyze the information most frequently requested by the public and how Corcom Communications can best provide it.

Use of Cookies

The majority of the Corcom Communications' Web site does not use cookies. For those sections of the Web site that process a credit card, survey or other transaction, cookies may be used to insure the privacy and security of those transactions.

Personal Information You Provide

If you send us e-mail or fill out forms online that contain personally identifiable information, we use that information only to respond to you or to process the requested transaction. Information may be redirected to another party within Corcom Communications who may be better able to handle your inquiry. Corcom Communications does not collect personal information for commercial marketing purposes or disclose that information to third parties unless required by law.

Open Government and Disclosure of Public Records

Corcom Communicaitons is subject to a variety of laws, including the Access To Public Records Law which might require the release of data upon request. Such actions as court orders or subpoenas are also cause to release information.

Security

Corcom Communications is concerned with the security of the data we have collected and has in place reasonable measures to prevent unauthorized access to that data.

Link Policy

This site contains links to other sites. The Corcom Communications is not responsible for the privacy practices or the contents of the sites that link either from or to this site. It is recommended that you review each of their individual privacy policies before providing any personal information.
